Getting Ready For Winter

Winter Holidays Are Around The Corner

Well, November is finally here! The holidays are soon approaching and bringing winter weather along. As we get closer to winter and all the festivities, we need to make sure our kiddos are prepared for the snow and extremely cold temperatures! They should be prepared for the cold with jackets, hats, gloves and of course boots after the snow falls. We will be taking children outside to play as long as they have the proper snow gear and the temperature doesn't fall below 20 degrees.

Along with winter, comes some of our favorite holidays! Thanksgiving is up first! What are some things you are most thankful for? Family? Your home? Great friends? We all have so much to give thanks for. Let us remember those that may not be as fortunate as ourselves. We will be having a canned food and care package drive this month to help those in need. Our kiddos are so compassionate and have shown great interest and concern for other families that don't have a place to lay their heads at night, or food to feed their children. Throughout November we will collect canned food and toiletries to donate to Colorado Coalition for the Homeless. The children will put together the care packages and write a small note of encouragement to put inside. I'm so proud of their compassion and desire to help others!

Happy Thanksgiving!

Kid's Corner: Real Thoughts from Real Kids

I interviewed Addison R. and Alyssa R. about what their thoughts were on doing the Food and Care Package Drive, as well as the growing homeless epidemic.

Here is what they had to say:

Addison R.

Question: Have you ever participated in feeding the homeless?

Answer: "Yes, in girl scouts."

Question: Why do you think it's important to help those in need?

Answer: "Because if they don't have food they won't survive. And we want citizens to survive."

Question: What do you think we could do, as a community, to help bring an end to homelessness?

Answer: "We can gather food and water that we don't need and give them that."

Alyssa R.

Question: How does it make you feel to know that there are people that don't have a home or food to eat?

Answer: "I think it's sad because they are starving."

Question: How does it make you feel to know that there are a lot of kids your age without a home or food to eat?

Answer: "It makes me sad because they don't have as much stuff as me."

Question: Are you excited about our food and care package drive?

"Yes."

What do you think you'll want to say in your encouragement notes?

Answer: "It will be okay, we are donating to you so you won't be starving anymore."

NOVEMBER CURRICULUM: This month will be full of many fun experiments and crafts! We will be going "Under the Sea" as well as "Camping" and preparing for Thanksgiving.
