

CHILD CARE INNOVATIONS

Provider Post

July — December 2019

Over twenty-five years of providing training and support for child care providers, building capacity, and developing programs to enhance quality.

Professional Development Opportunities...

This bi-annual publication provides information about training sessions offered by our agency. All sessions are presented by highly qualified part-time staff. Certificates are provided to document your professional development, interactive learning experiences, current best practice information for early childhood professionals...all at affordable prices.

We look forward to offering some of the new PDIS courses in a Face-2-Face (F2F) format so that you are able to interact with a person and still receive your credits through the PDIS portal.

We are also available for consultation and provision of customized training sessions provided at community locations throughout our service delivery area, early childhood professional organizations, or child care centers.

For information on additional trainings please visit PDIS at:

Promoting Social-Emotional Health

#P20-19

$35.00

Wednesday, August 7, 6:30pm—8:30pm

Room: 1160

Instructor: Christine Cerbana

Why do feelings matter? Why should we be concerned with developing emotional literacy in children? Children's awareness around feelings do not come naturally. Being able to recognize, express, and manage a range of emotions benefits a child's mental health and well-being. And being able to emotionally regulate emotions has a role in developing the necessary cognitive skills for success in school. So how do we teach kids about feelings? This workshop will define emotional literacy, social-emotional learning, emotional intelligence and empathy while making the case for emotional development in children and providing practical tips and strategies for parents and caregivers. Let's give them the gift of identifying and coping with their whirlwind of BIG EMOTIONS and lifelong emotional health.

Competencies:

Guidance 2.1, 2.2, 2.4, 4.2, 4.4

Saturday, October 5, 9:00am—12:00pm

Room: 1160

Instructor: Christine Cerbana

How do you react to stress? Do you shout, hit, or remain calm? Is distress making you sick?

Because we are unique, we experience and handle stress in different ways. If you are overwhelmed and frustrated about life and want to do something about it, then this is the workshop for you!

This interactive workshop will examine the true causes and effects of stress, understand the pressures you face, head off unnecessary problems, cope with those that are unavoidable, and explore ways to reduce and manage stress. In the process, discover your unique potential and inner strengths and channel it to promote health, fitness, and self-esteem!

Competencies:

3.8.A. Social and Emotional Competency

- Model pro-social behavior for children and encourage its age appropriate use, e.g., positive outlooks, healthy social habits, encouragement.
- Investigate stressors that impact social and emotional health and ways to mitigate that stress in both self and children.
- Create a plan for early care and education settings to prioritize self-wellness and professional development opportunities for staff.

4.3.A. Social and Emotional Competency

- Understand the range of adult responses that support the development of children's internal control of their own behavior.
- Observe the self-regulation abilities of the adults in the environment and how these correlate to the children's abilities to self-regulate.
