

CHILD CARE INNOVATIONS

Provider Post

January — June 2020

Over twenty-five years of providing training and support for child care providers, building capacity, and developing programs to enhance quality.

Professional Development Opportunities...

This bi-annual publication provides information about training sessions offered by our agency. All sessions are presented by highly qualified part-time staff. Certificates are provided to document your professional development, interactive learning experiences, current best practice information for early childhood professionals...all at affordable prices.

We look forward to offering some of the new PDIS courses in a Face-2-Face (F2F) format so that you are able to interact with a person and still receive your credits through the PDIS portal.

We are also available for consultation and provision of customized training sessions provided at community locations throughout our service delivery area, early childhood professional organizations, or child care centers.

For information on additional trainings please visit PDIS at:

Provider Updates

Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies collect data on child care supply and demand. This data may be used to:

- * Help parents and providers understand average rates in given communities
- * Help families understand options that best meet their needs
- * Help inform recruitment efforts
- * Gain information needed to receive funding for quality improvement, scholarships and support providers
- * Help inform capacity building efforts
- * Help determine training and support needs
- * Help in communication and outreach to providers, including providing information about grants and other resources
- * Help us advocate on behalf of early childhood professionals

Each licensed facility is contacted once a year per our contract with the Colorado Office of Early Childhood.

Please take some time to assist us when contacted or call our provider line: 303-969-9666.

Science Extensions

Presented by:

Denver Museum of Nature and Science

#P20-53

$50.00

Saturday, February 29, 9:00am—12:00pm

Room: 1013

Instructor: Amanda Avram

Teaching science does not have to be intimidating. In fact, it is an ideal and natural way to tap into a child's sense of wonder and exploration. By simply extending what you already do a little further through the skills of science play and discovery, you will soon learn that not only is it doable, but also fun and enriching for the children you teach. This workshop is chock full of ideas and strategies that you can use right away with materials already found in your classroom. You'll leave with a host of hands-on activities and a fresh perspective on how to ignite curiosities and develop skills of observation and investigation. Dig into hands-on fun and add practical tools to your science tool box!

Competencies:

Creating Schedules & Routines: Setting Children up for Success

#P20-54

$35.00

Tuesday, March 3, 6:30pm—8:30pm

Room: 1013

Instructor: Rebecca Armentrout

Many times teachers struggle throughout the day helping children regulate their bodies and emotions. Visiting daily schedules, rituals and routines can help set both teachers and children up for a successful day. Participants will learn ways to create rituals and routines within their day to regulate children and reduce challenging behaviors during transitions or hectic times throughout the day.

Competencies:

CGDL 1.2. Prepares environments and implements the planned experiences addressing the needs of individual children across the developmental domains and across the ages that will be included in those environments

CGDL 11.1. Describes how attachment relates to the growth, development, and learning of young children and builds positive relationships with children in their care. Demonstrates an understanding of how attachment varies across different cultural contexts.

G 1.2. Implements positive relationship techniques and supports to ensure that children have frequent opportunities to interact with early childhood professional, other adults, and peers in respectful and meaningful ways.

G 4.2. Provides experiences and consistent environments, which promote social skills and appropriate behaviors for all children.

Families as Partners: The Importance Of Family Involvement

#P20-55

$35.00

Wednesday, April 8, 6:30pm—8:30pm

Room: 1013

Instructor: Christine Cerbana

Looking for ways to involve parents? Is it baking cookies, inviting them to volunteer in the classroom, or asking that they attend parent/teacher meetings? Research shows a strong link between family involvement and a child's success in school. It is essential that all programs reflect on their current practice in this area. This workshop will look at the model developed by Joyce Epstein that identifies six best practices for family involvement, the importance of it in the social and emotional learning of children, and the challenges of implementation. Participate in this exciting discussion and get practical ideas that will engage the families in your care!

Competencies:

Family and Community Partnerships

1.1, 1.2, 2.1, 2.2, 3.1, 10.1, 10.2, 12.1, 13.1, 15.1

Brain Development Series

The Brain Architecture Game

#P20-57

$35.00

Wednesday, May 6, 6:30pm—9:30pm

Room: 1160

Instructor: Joy Wishtun

The Brain Architecture Game is an engaging, experiential training rooted in developmental science to inform a deeper understanding of experiences as key to shaping a person's brain. By engaging players in a carefully designed, hands-on, group experience, the game helps people see and feel the implications of the science of early brain development. Utilizing teamwork and cooperative play, TBAG will encourage a reflective discussion on a range of early childhood issues, policies, and programs.

Brain Development Series—Part 1

This training will cover a discussion of epigenetics and neurological development in the 0-3 brain. There will be a discussion of the idea of supporting the first “1,000 days” and the process of “serve and return.”

(Parts 2 and 3 to follow—June 10)

June 2020

Brain Development Series

Social Emotional and Physiological

#P20-58

$35.00

Wednesday, June 10, 6:30pm—9:30pm

Room: TBD

Instructor: Joy Wishtun

Social Emotional Development (Part 2)

This training will discuss the important building blocks of early childhood development, with a focus on how providers and parents can work with children to ensure the formation of healthy social skills, emotional regulation, behaviors, and relationships. The range of normative development will be considered (e.g., what a young child can experience emotionally; what behaviors are likely to be observed if they are invalidated or emotionally dismissed), as well as what supports are available when there are concerns about a child's development.

Physiological Development: Meeting your Child's Internal and External Needs (Part 3)

This training will discuss the Empowering Principles from Trust Based Relational Intervention. The Empowering Principles are designed to facilitate change in children by teaching them self-regulation skills. Utilizing physiological (internal) and ecological (external) strategies, this training will discuss issues surrounding sensory input and processing, hydration, blood glucose, transitions, and routines.
